Email : EMichael@iFLYsail.com

Equipment:

The test sailor has full responsibility for correct and safe clothing, including harness, helmet, life vest, good sailing shoes, gloves ...

An adequate sailing suit is required to keep you warm. Sessions sometimes stay on the water for several hours.

vi) signature / initials :

Some equipment might be provided by the coach
(after prior confirmation).

Right to image and appearance:

I authorize CEC Catamarans GmbH to use any photos and videos taken during this test session for publication e.g. on their website and social networks.

vii) signature / initials :

Don't forget to also bring your own camera(s) to film e.g. from the motorboat. You may also like to bring a USB mass storage device for data transfer.

Insurance:

I am informed that it is in my own responsibility to subscribe personally to health insurance, accident insurance, liability insurance (third party).

viii) signature / initials :

Procedure:

The private coaching includes the coach and charter fee for the iFLY. The coach will sail with you on the iFLY and/or you will sail single handed (depending on your skill level) with coach supporting you from the motorboat via radio communication (if motorboat is chartered onsite). Usually, there are (up to three) video cameras, allowing for a debriefing and a nice souvenir.

Deposit payment / fee:

Price for half a day is 500€. Price for a full day is 950EUR. The event fee can be shared among several participants.

In case of chartering a motorboat, there might be additional cost for this (usually 100€ / half day).

Release and indemnity agreement iFLY15 is a flying high performance race catamaran. It can fly 1m above the water surface and at speeds than can exceed 30kts. Even though iFLY specific design helps for an easier access to foiling, there is a risk of injury, death and damage to material.

I acknowledge these risks to my person and others, as well as to property, while test sailing iFLY15 hydrofoil catamaran. I know that sailing a foiling high-performance catamaran is extreme sport and that this always implies risk. I am willing to take that risk.

I will rely upon my own judgment and ability while sailing the iFLY and assume all risks of injury and damage arising out of such participation. I will not sue or make any claim whatsoever against the person of Ernst-Michael Miller (chief designer of the iFLY15) nor against CEC Catamarans GmbH or CEC Portugal Lda. (manufacturer of the iFLY catamaran) nor against organizers or hosts of the test sailing event (e.g. hosting yacht club), result of such participation. This is also and especially valid in case of failure of components of the catamaran, which can never be excluded on a high-end race boat.

Discharge of responsibility:

I release Ernst-Michael Miller and CEC/iFLY and organizers / host of the event from any liability while participating in this trial. I waive any claims of any kind, be it with CEC/iFLY or its employees. This concerns in particular cases of accident, injury or death, theft, damage to personal property or others occurring during my participation in this trial.

Preceded by the mention, read, understood and approved. I do speak English and understand this release and indemnity agreement.
